CELEBRATED GERMAN BITTERS, PREPARED BY

DR. C. M. JACKSON,
100 Arch street Philadelphia.

They powers over the above diseases is not excelled, it equalled, by any other preparation in the United States, as far as I am aware, in many cases after skillful practitioners had failed.

These Bitters are worthy the attention of invalids, possessing great virtues in the rectification of diseases of the Liver and lesser glands, exciting the more searching power in weak and infirm affections of the digestive organs, they are, without, safe, certain and pleasant.

These Bitters are equal to any, and are superior to all others.

Having in my employ a first rate Confectioner, on whom I can rely, to furnish Weddings and Parties in the finest style, and on the shortest notice, and most reasonable terms.

Thankful for past favors, he hopes to meet a continuation of the same, by strict attention to business at old stand, on St. Clair street, Frankfort, Ky.

CELEBRATED GERMAN BIT

MADAME ADOLPHE.—This truly extraordinary Phrenologist and Sympathist has been astonishing all of our citizens who have visited her. We gave ourselves the pleasure of a call, the other day, and must confess that we were taken by surprise. After manipulating our cranium she proceeded to tell our past history with remarkable accuracy and without hesitation; and although we tried several times to mislead her, yet she would insist upon the truth of her first statements. As a matter of course, knew anything, but of the past and present she is most certainly conversant, as all who wish, can readily satisfy.

As Madame A. will leave us this evening we would advise every body who wishes to consult her to go early to day, and can assure them they will not regret it.

GERRIT SMITH.

Smith is certainly the quaintest specimen of a politician that we know of. Though he is an out and out abolitionist, he came very near going to the Nebraska bill. He is avowedly a disciple of the "young America" school—went the whole length of the Gadsen treaty—spoke for it and in that speech declared he was for the acquisition of Cuba without delay, and asked to be counted among the filibusters—seems to be in favor of getting as much slave territory as possible and as soon as convenient. Verily Smith is getting along in Congress first rate considering his abolitionism, and we wouldn't be much surprised to see him some of these days advocating all the rights and privileges of the "peculiar institution." We are almost sorry that he is going to quit public life. But he has resigned his seat in Congress—has sent his letter of resignation to his constituents. The letter is characteristic of the man and is so quaint that we give it an insertion. It reads thus:

WASHINGTON, June 27th 1854.

To MY CONSTITUENTS.—My nomination to Congress alarmed me greatly, because I believed that it would result in my election. To separate myself from my large private business for so long a time and to war so long a time against the strong habits formed in my deeply seduced life, seemed to be well nigh impossible.

My election having taken place, I concluded that I must serve you during the first session of my term. Not to speak of other reasons for such service, there was at least, so much due to you in regard to your general forgetfulness of party obligations, in electing me. I could not do less and yet make a decent return for the respect and partiality you had shown me.

I did not, until within a few weeks, fully decide not to return to Congress at the next session. I could not know that something unusual might demand such return. I now feel at liberty to announce my purpose to resign my seat in Congress at the close of the present session. Why I make the announcement so early is that you may have ample time to look around you for my successor.

I resign my seat the more freely, because I do not thereby impose any tax upon your time. You will fill the vacancy at the general election. Indeed, should have been entirely unwilling to put you to the pains of holding a special election.

GERRIT SMITH.

Isn't that a model of a letter of resignation? Whoever before was alarmed at a nomination because he "feared it would result in an election?" But they can say Smith is honest and conscientious, and perhaps has told the truth, yet it's a tough story.

THE FIGHT IN CHINA.—We have just been reading a series of letters in the New York Herald from Shanghai giving the details of a battle between a few Americans and Englishmen and the Imperialists. It was a remarkable battle—remarkable in more particulars than one—remarkable that a mere handful of men should dare in a strange land to brave the displeasure of a vast nation, and remarkable that about 300 of them should obtain an easy victory over 10,000 strongly entrenched and fortified. At this rate an American or English army of 10,000 men could very easily overrun the whole Chinese empire, with its three hundred and fifty millions of people. And things have just come to pass in China, that if we do not annex a slice of that interesting country pretty soon, John Bull will. The spirit of the age is progressive, very much so, indeed, and we can't stand still.

WEST AMERICAN MONTHLY.—We have before us the first number of the first volume of this western monthly, for July. Its old patrons will be surprised at first seeing it, but on examining they will find that it is their old visitor the Parlor Magazine, clothed in a new suit and more handsomely done up than ever. The subscription is $2 per year in advance. Liberal arrangements made with clubs.

IN Somerville, Mass.—A scientific gentleman has made a bright gas for his household, superior to coal gas. He produces it by the combustion of benzole, which is at a dollar and a half per gallon. This is mixed with atmospheric air in a small neat apparatus which will fit into any corner, and receive pipes connecting the gas to all parts of the house. The cost is not greater than that of coal gas. By this invention, which is patented, every ship and every insulated dwelling house, may enjoy its own brilliant light, producing it whenever and in whatever quantity it may be needed.

Old friends are the best. King James used to call for his old shoes—they were easiest for his feet. So says Sheldon.

When you go to drown yourself always take off your clothes; they may fit your wife's second husband.

THE BEST WAY TO KEEP COOL.—In this murderously hot weather is to drop in occasionally at West's and call for a glass of soda. They have fitted up a first rate fountain and are ready at all times to give you the pure stuff, and besides they warrant it produce an effect.

A case of some importance was decided at Cincinnati last week, where a banker holding a deposit of an endorser to a protested note, or to a note whose maker had become insolvent, claimed the deposit as a set off against the note. The court decided that the deposit was not liable, but that a check in the hands of a third party for the amount should have been paid. In Massachusetts, in a similar case, the bank was allowed to retain the deposit as a set off.

An Important Discovery.—A Paris journal states that the bad smell and taste of butter may be entirely removed by working it over in water mixed with chloride of lime. The discovery was made by a Brussels farmer whose practice it is to take a sufficient quantity of water to work it in and put it in from 25 to 30 drops of chloride of lime for every ten pounds of butter. When it has been worked until the whole has been in contact with the water, it should be worked again in pure water, when it will be found to be as sweet as when first made.

General Ogle says that of all the people in the world, fools have the least sense.—Great divinity that.

SECRET OF CAPT. MITCHELL.—Capt. Sam'l. B. Mitchell, of the ship Malo, of Vermont, Maine, committed suicide in New Orleans on the 1st. by hanging himself with his cravat. He had just received intelligence of the death of his wife, and this so preyed upon his mind as to cause him to commit the desperate act.

TO MY CONSTITUENTS.—My nomination to Congress alarmed me greatly, because I believed that it would result in my election. To separate myself from my large private business for so long a time and to war so long a time against the strong habits formed in my deeply seduced life, seemed to be well nigh impossible.

My election having taken place, I concluded that I must serve you during the first session of my term. Not to speak of other reasons for such service, there was at least, so much due to you in regard to your general forgetfulness of party obligations, in electing me. I could not do less and yet make a decent return for the respect and partiality you had shown me.

The rascal who broke into the Church of the Parishes (Dr. Cheever's) a few nights since and stole the bible from the pulpit, is requested either to read or return it, or suffer the consequences. The plates used in taking collections, which he broke and left where he found them were not silver, he may have by calling at the church.

IN Madrid on the birthday of Queen Christina of Spain, a grand reception was held by Queen Isabella at the palace, which was attended by all the corps diplomatique. A letter notices that at this ceremony the minister of the United States wore a black velvet coat embroidered with black silk, and says that its elegant simplicity attracted attention, and produced a striking effect amidst the brilliant uniforms by which it was surrounded.

FAMINE IN THE HOLY LAND.—It appears that those fearful visitations of dearth and famine, to which the people of Israel were still among the most severely subjected in ancient times, are still among the most serious drawbacks to a settled residence in the Holy Land. Recent letters from the venerable city of Hebron, calling upon Sir Moses Montefiore for relief, say that the Land of Judah is "consuming its people," that "the dearth which prevails is unparalleled in the annals of the country. Failing harvests are superseded by drought, so that the face of the earth is literally scorched, and the wail of the famished multitudes is heard by day and by night, and our streets are thronged with starving children, who vainly implore for food."

THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY AND THE FILIBUSTERS.—There was great excitement yesterday evening in the neighborhood of the City Hall, as it was known that the Federal Grand Jury were to meet at 5 o'clock, to investigate the filibuster movement in this city. Pierre Sauve, General Henderson, Col. Samuel J. Peters, Major Thrasher, and Dr. A. L. Saunders, the grand scribe of the Ousey Owls, who were deemed the most prominent filibusters in the State, were summoned to appear before the grand inquest. The appearance of the reporters for the press were not very good, but as the investigation occupied but a few moments, we were spared the trouble of a long sitting.

The first filibuster called to the stand was General Henderson. He was a regular "Know-Nothing," so far as filibustering was concerned. He declared he knew nothing of the matter except by hearing.

Col. Samuel J. Peters was next called up. He followed in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor, General Henderson, by declaring that his knowledge of filibustering was solely derived from hearing.

The third witness was Major Thrasher. He looked and felt like a man on whose firmness, at the critical moment, much depended—like one who felt equal to the task of shattering the fetters that bind the beautiful and pensive Queen of the Antilles, and who, on her deliverance, would, like Coriolanus, say—"Alone, I did it!"—When District attorney Moise commenced pumping the Major, he drew himself up with an air of insulted dignity, and positively refused to answer any questions.

Old friends are the best. King James used to call for his old shoes—they were easiest for his feet. So says Sheldon.

When you go to drown yourself always take off your clothes; they may fit your wife's second husband.

The last witness called was Dr. Saunders. The doctor, though apparently desirous of winning the honors of martyrdom, like Major Thrasher, was still cautious in his replies, as became the chief of the Ousey Owls. He would not give a direct answer to any question put to him by the district attorney, and that officer failing to elicit anything, the grand jury adjourned.

At 10 o'clock this morning, the stubborn witnesses will be understood, be brought before Judge Campbell, and made to "blow the gaff," or be furnished with free quarters in the Mississippi Hotel, at the expenses of Uncle Sam.

It was strongly hinted, last night, that should the parties, this morning, be sent down, an attempt to rescue would be made, in which event the troops would be called out. We have no fears of any such result. The civil authorities believe them fully competent to maintain the majesty of the law in such an emergency.—N. O. True Delta.

AFFLICTED READ!!

PHILADELPHIA MEDICAL HOUSE.—Established 20 years ago by Dr. KINKELIN, corner of Third and Union st., between Market and Pine, Philadelphia, Pa. INVALIDS. Are apprised that Dr. KINKELIN confines his practice to a particular branch of Medicine, which engages his undivided attention. He cautions the unfortunate stricken with fits of mercury: thousands are annually mineralized out of life. Recent additions are prompt and efficacious.

TWENTY YEARS EXPERIENCE.

In the treatment of a class of disease, hitherto neglected and imperfectly understood, has enabled Dr. KINKELIN (Author of "Self Observation") to perceive that the symptoms of the disease, mere & simple, & local and constitutional weakness, mental and physical suffering, are traceable to certain habits, forming the most secret yet deadly fatal springs of domestic misery.

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There is an evil hantismes included in his boys, in solitude, often growing up with them to manhood, and which, if not reformed in due time, not only begets serious obstructions to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to general debility, and terminates in most devastating affections. Few of those who give way to these vicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they find the nervous system shattered, fever, strange and unaccountable, andague fever, in the mind.

The unfortunate thus affected, are unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply his mind to study; his step is tardy and weak, he is dull, irresolute, and engrossed in his sport with less energy than usual.

If he emancipates himself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruitful, and his sense tells him that this is caused by his early follies. These are considerations which should awaken the attention of those similarly situated.

MARITAL LIFE.

Requires the fulness of several conditions, in order that it may be really the cause of mutual happiness. Could the veil which covers the origin of domestic wretchedness be raised, and its true source in every instance disclosed, the mind and heart b' traced to the cause of dissatisfaction, and their attendant disappointment? Apply them while it is yet time, in order to have your unstrung and relaxed organization rebraced, revived and strengthened.

REMEMBER.

He who places himself under Dr. KINKELIN's treatment may reasonably consider him as a sound man, and rely upon the assurance, that the secrets of Dr. K.'s patients will never be disclosed.

Young man—let no false modesty deter you from making your known to those who from education and experience are best qualified to judge.

Too many think they will conceal the secret in their own hearts, and cure themselves. Alas! how often is this a fatal delusion, and how many a promising young man who might have been an ornament to society, has failed from the same cause.

Structures of the urethra are rapidly removed by the application of a new therapeutical agent, used only by Dr. K. Weakness and constitutional debility promptly cured, and full restoration.

COUNTRY INVALIDS.

Can have (by stating their case explicitly, together with all their symptoms, per letter enclosing a remittance) Dr. K.'s medicine, appropriated accordingly.

Forwarded to any part of the United States, and pack & secure from DAMAGE or CURIOSITY.
